

Please continue regulating broadband pricing to small independent ISPs. I value being able to use an independent ISP that offers service at a reasonable price and is responsive to its customers. Removing regulation would probably spell the end of the independents, and with it, an end to competition in the field.

Yours truly,
Edith LaSala